In Conclusion

Finally, we emphasise that the aim of this manual is to present ideas that you can build on, adapt and improve. The Ministry of Women & Child Development will be organising regular events where it will bring together all of those who are assisting by acting as GB trainers and mentors for Ministries and Departments. At these events, you will be asked to share your experiences, and your learnings about 'what works' as well as 'what does not work so well'.

Please do keep notes of what you do during sessions with Ministries and Departments. These will help you as you plan later sessions. It will also help your fellow trainers and facilitators. Furthermore, it will assist in taking forward Gender Budgeting in Government of India.
